Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly:

Our Constitution provides that at the beginning of each session the Governor shall, by message, inform the Legislative Assembly of the condition of the State and recommend such measures as he shall deem required. With genuine pleasure I perform that duty.

Today our country is engaged in an all-out global war. We face in battle the greatest armed forces that ever attempted to make might right and to destroy the liberty and freedom of man.

The events of the past year have been soul-stirring. One cannot call to mind the great historic incidents that have occurred since that December attack which, as the President has said, "is a day that will live in infamy", without realizing that we are living in an era when history is being written indelibly and for all time. What our forces accomplish in the field, on the sea, and in the air will decide the future course of civilization. We have truly entered upon a war of survival and it is imperative that each of us contribute our utmost in effort and financial support to our country's cause.

That there may be no lag in the prosecution of the global conflict to a victorious finish, the people of Montana are responding with characteristic vigor and loyalty to every appeal which comes from the leaders of our fighting forces. Thousands of our young men and our older ones as well, have been in the service for months, battling on the seven seas, on the desert wastes of Africa and in the jungles of the South Pacific. And it is a matter of pride to note the stories that appear from time to time in our newspapers in which the heroic deeds of our boys are singled out for special mention.

Montana people do not propose to let any opportunity to lend aid and comfort to these fighters in the field go by unnoticed. The folks at home are devoting their energies to every phase of the war effort in which the civilian may have a part. They have more than filled their quotas in the drives for scrap metal and in other moves for the benefit of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Forces. And when it comes to the financial part of war's burden our people are doing their allotted share. They are submitting to rationing without whimpering, and they will continue to do this as the ration list grows longer, so long as they are satisfied that whatever of self-denial they may make is contributing to the fighting power of the defenders of the American way of life.

Primarily, victory in this war is our first and most important task. But in our every war effort we must not lose sight of what will be expected of us when the war ends—the post-war period—when re-construction and adjustments will succeed the war. Past experience has taught us that if we are to escape disaster we cannot leave things to work themselves out in a haphazard way. Government, Federal, State and local, in close cooperation with labor and industry, must take a leading part in providing a program for the greatest business employment in the post-war adjustment period.

We cannot look forward with unconcern and complacency to that large body of soldiers who will be discharged into civilian life without providing for them some form of useful employment.

Nor can we overlook our obligation to the men and women who will, when victory shall have been achieved, be forced by quirks of economy into unjust and unbearable idleness. We must provide for them a place in our post-war economy.

Our future must be kept open. We must build up now a great post-war reserve of public and private works to help, as far as possible, mitigate the inevitable unemployment which will come during the readjustment days.

I am pleased to report that the finances of the State are in better condition today than at any time in the history of Montana. At the end of the past fiscal year, June 30, there remained a balance in the General Fund of $2,400,000. This is most gratifying when we consider the tremendous demands that have been made upon the State and the greatly increased cost of materials and supplies purchased. This surplus is due to increased revenue, economies practiced, and sound business methods employed. In addition to the balance in the General Fund, it is expected that more than a million dollars ($1,000,000) will be paid to the State by the Daly estate. With economical administration it may reasonably be anticipated that at the close of the present fiscal year, there will be a balance in the General Fund of approximately four million dollars ($4,000,000).

With this favorable condition I am convinced that, even though there will be a decrease in State revenue from many sources, if our income is effectively administered our revenues will adequately provide for the proper functioning of State affairs without additional or new taxes.

Although our every aim should be to reduce taxes wherever possible, I am convinced that it will be the better part of wisdom if we maintain unimpaired our State income tax law. The repeal of this law would result in an increase in the property tax.

The balance in our General Fund is favorable, but only a fraction of the amount that will be required to meet the post-war demands. If we are to be able to solve the many perplexing problems with which we will be confronted, it is necessary that we accumulate a back-log or reservoir to provide the funds necessary to properly meet the reconstruction period.

I cannot urge too strongly that economy be the watchword of this session. Rapidly skyrocketing federal expenditures have resulted in the highest federal taxes ever levied, while in all probability these taxes will continue to mount to meet the cost of the war. In addition, the cost of living has increased tremendously. Our people must be spared as far as possible any burden that might be added through injudicious state expenditure. I therefore urge that you scrutinize carefully every appropriation bill and eliminate all non-essential expenditures and go as far as possible in reducing expenditures of state departments without materially affecting governmental functions.

The Twenty-seventh Legislative Assembly enacted Chapter 56, Laws of 1941, providing for a thorough study of the entire structure of State government in order that essential State services may be more successful and economically performed.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of this Act, I appointed the Committee on Reorganization and Economy. As the result of a most careful study and survey and untiring efforts on the part of the members of the Committee, there has come the report on Reorganization which has been submitted to you.

Chapter 56, for which the Twenty-seventh Legislative Assembly is deserving of great credit, indicates the desire of that body to have prepared for your consideration definite recommendations. This report is submitted with the reminder that while the Governor and Committee have conscientiously done everything possible to execute the provisions of the Act, a complete and effective reorganization of the State government cannot be accomplished except by specific action of the Legislative Assembly itself.

As all of the recommendations submitted are commended to your serious consideration, I will not take time to enter into a discussion of each of the recommendations made, but I especially direct your attention to those dealing with the following subjects:

(1) Financial Administration. Accounting, auditing, budgeting, appropriating, financial reporting and all methods of expenditure control are only the tools for financial administration which, itself, is one of the most important managerial functions of government. No activity of government can be carried on without funds. Financial administration embraces the problems involved in providing, allotting and using them. Thus it touches the very foundation of the social and economic welfare of the people. In it are bound up the control of all governmental activities.

It is also concerned with the elimination of waste and extravagance and with the skillful handling of funds so as to take full advantage of both the earning power and the purchasing power of the dollar. It should insure that the expenditure of each dollar of public moneys secures even greater results than would a similar expenditure privately made. Through putting every dollar to work and realizing its full value, effective financial administration can reduce the total number of dollars to be extracted from the taxpayer. It can thus insure true economy and efficiency and is one of the basic principles of a sound plan of reorganization.

(2) Department of Labor. Under existing laws, this important function is a division of the Department of Agriculture, Labor and Industry. There is no logical reason for this combination of governmental activities.

The report recommends the creation of a separate Department of Labor with definite related activities.

If this recommendation cannot be carried out by virtue of existing constitutional provisions, then I strongly urge that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the electors at the next general election providing for a separate Department of Labor. In the meantime, adequate appropriation should be made to the present Labor Division in order that all labor laws may be properly administered.

(3) Personnel Administration. Good personnel administration has in view the securing of the greatest possible value for the money expended for personnel services, just as other aspects of good business management are directed toward securing the greatest returns from expenditures for other purposes.

Our present system is unsatisfactory and inefficient and violates good business practices. Surely Montana has reached the point of development where the "spoils system" should be forever abolished.

I therefore recommend the enactment of a Personnel Administration law governing the appointment, promotion, and removal of State employees.

Substantial improvement has been made during the past two years in our State institutions, but there is yet much to be accomplished.

Conditions at the Montana State Hospital have been greatly improved. We have employed a business manager and a dietitian, increased and improved the meals at only slightly increased cost. Patients are now getting a substantial and well balanced diet, perhaps not what many would like to see them get but all that our funds will permit.

Due to conditions brought about by the war it has been extremely difficult to maintain a working unit. It has been necessary to employ men and women even past sixty years of age who are inexperienced in the work. Constant changes in personnel have made it impossible to operate the Hospital satisfactorily.

A few unfortunate incidents have occurred, each case has been investigated and prompt and effective measures have been taken by the management to prevent further such occurrences.

New buildings and improvements authorized for the State Hospital have not been made. Bonds authorized by the electors were issued and sold; plans and specifications prepared, but before contracts for construction could be entered into, the order relating to priorities became effective and these much needed buildings and improvements must be deferred for the duration.

The institution is greatly overcrowded and we anticipate more than the normal increase of inmates in the coming years.

There are at the institution a large number of patients who properly belong in the State Training School at Boulder, where ample facilities are available for their care. However, under present laws, transfers from one institution to the other cannot lawfully be made.

I therefore recommend that the laws in that particular be amended with as little delay as possible in order that some measure of relief may be afforded at the State Hospital.

In order that you may be fully informed regarding our State institutions, their management and the care given inmates, let me urge that careful inspections and investigations be made by you so that needed legislation or changes may be enacted without delay.

With the rationing of food and a possible shortage of many items of foodstuffs, it is becoming more difficult to obtain supplies for our State institutions.

In the past it has been the practice to rent or lease for terms of from one to three years land needed to carry on our agricultural activities. This policy is not satisfactory and the best farming practices cannot be employed.

In my opinion the State should acquire at each of the institutions where necessary, sufficient and suitable land to insure against the shortage of essential foods.

America's institutions of higher learning are faced with their greatest responsibility in history in helping to win the war and prepare for the problems of the post-war world. The six institutions of higher learning in Montana must make their contribution to the development of the leadership and the technical training required for this gigantic endeavor. The very success of democracy itself is dependent upon trained leadership in public service, in industry, and in community life.

The support provided for higher education in Montana in the past has been inadequate. This inadequate support has handicapped these institutions in meeting their responsibilities in the past, and will handicap them even more in facing the problems of the future. The most important force of a university is the quality of its faculty, and faculties of outstanding ability cannot be secured or retained on the salaries that have been paid and are now being paid in Montana institutions.

For a ten-year period buildings and grounds on the various campuses of the University of Montana have been allowed to run down. This lack of maintenance has been a very unwise form of economy in that increased costs will be involved in the making of repairs as a result of neglect.

The Board of Education has carefully studied the needs of the six institutions, and has made requests for their reasonable and necessary support. I hope that you will look with favor upon these requests.

The need for recodification of fish and game laws of the State has been recognized by past Legislatures.

Many of the existing statutes were passed during the early attempts by the Legislature to prevent the wholesale and complete destruction of our wildlife resources. Some of these laws, so necessary at their inception, are now a handicap to efficient game management.

With each Legislative Session new laws have been enacted, resulting in contradictions, uncertainties, and conflicting acts, until today it is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to determine what the law actually is as it relates to the Fish and Game Department. This has been and is a constant source of embarrassment to the Department, as well as to attorneys and our courts.

Montana has one of the greatest heritages in its wild-life in the entire United States. The Fish and Game Department has set up a long-term program for the development of these resources and already great progress in its fulfillment has been accomplished but the condition of our laws has materially retarded proper progress.

I therefore recommend that the Fish and Game Department be authorized to spend such of its funds as may be necessary for a complete recodification of these laws, to be submitted for your consideration at the earliest possible date.

Many states have found it necessary to take over the management of beaver. They have found it utterly impossible, despite honest endeavors to regulate the traffic and possession of beaver under laws similar to these now in effect in Montana.

A recent investigation has disclosed a large and well organized beaver racket in Montana, and conclusively proves that there has been great economic loss to the State, due to illegal traffic in beaver pelts.

As a result of this investigation by the Department in cooperation with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, twelve persons were convicted of illegal possession and sale of furs and a total of $3,850 collected in fines. Thus, some progress has been made in breaking up this racket and, except for the interference of a few well-meaning but misguided citizens, I am convinced much more would have been accomplished and illegal pelts of the value of at least $75,000 seized and confiscated.

Notwithstanding this accomplishment it is impossible to break up the racket and to prevent illegal traffic in beaver pelts under existing laws.

A complete study of the records of this investigation will in my opinion convince you that it is necessary for the State, by proper legislation, to take over the management of beaver, their trapping, and the possession and sale of pelts.

Montana has a very important forest problem which must be met if the forest resources are to continue to benefit the people of the State to the fullest extent in supplying raw material to the sawmills, ties to the railroads, stull to the mines, in furnishing employment and recreation, and in protecting watersheds and the sources of water. To meet all aspects of the problem, the State must have a sound forest policy; First with respect to State-owned land and second with respect to the State's responsibilities toward private land.

West of the Continental Divide there are 2,900,000 acres of private forest land capable of producing commercial forest. 1,115,000 acres of this now bears saw timber. The State owns 446,000 acres, of which one-half bears saw timber. The application of good forest practice will further the principles of sustained production and do much to stabilize industry and furnish continuous employment.

Adequate forest fire control has been approached but present forest practices on much of the privately owned land leaves much to be desired. Only in one instance have circumstances permitted the pooling of Federal, State and private forest resources for the purpose of initiating a plan for sustained production.

In the past, Legislatures have not appropriated sufficient forest protection funds to cover established obligations for fire control on State-owned land. Other agencies have been required to carry the State's obligation until a deficiency appropriation could be made.

State and private land in Montana east of the Continental Divide has no protection whatever except those lying within the jurisdiction of Federal agencies.

The State can ill afford to neglect longer this valuable resource. It not only affects the prosperity and welfare of the State but the very life of many communities is jeopardized.

If our forest resources are to be preserved for the future welfare of the State, it is time to take the initiative in forestry matters and to see that its own land is properly protected and managed.

The State owns approximately 5,500,000 acres of land, exclusive of forest land. These lands constitute an important resource, both from the standpoint of agriculture and as a source of public revenue.

The excessive burden of property taxes upon many privately owned lands makes it essential that proper consideration be given to State-owned land as a source of public revenue. Every dollar of income from this land could take the place of another dollar, which has to be raised through taxation.

It is essential that in fairness to all concerned lease rates charged for the use of State-owned land be based on their productivity or earning power.

Prior to 1933, the law specified that the minimum lease rate could not be less than 5% of the appraised value of the land. This law was amended by the 1933 Legislature (Section 1805.25 R. C. M. 1935) and provided a maximum rental of grazing land from $20.00 to $50.00 per section, depending on the classification of such land, except where the leasing price is increased above this sum by competitive bidding. Where there had previously been a floor under the rentals, there is now a ceiling above.

As a result of the 1933 amendment, the per cent of acreage under lease has increased but in accomplishing this increase in the number of acreage leased, the average rental per acre has dropped. The income actually received has been substantially reduced.

Under the present law lease rates of State land have been substantially lower than rates received by counties and for privately owned land.

The 1933 amendment of lease rates was presented to the Legislature as an emergency measure. However, the Act carries no emergency provision and further legislation will be required to make a change in lease rates.

Because of the fluctuations in livestock carrying capacity of grazing land and yields of farm land due to climatic variations extending over a period of years and because of the periodic variations in price of products from these lands, the use value of State land varies from one period to another. Stockmen and farmers cannot carry reserves from good years that will permit them to pay lease rates exceeding the long-time average use value of land during prolonged periods of unfavorable years.

Obviously the State Board of Land Commissioners should be given broad discretion in fixing lease rates. The fixing of such rates is an administrative and not a legislative problem. This seems necessary, if the interests of the State, as well as of the lessees, are properly protected.

I therefore recommend that Section 1805.25 R. C. M. 1935 be amended by removing the ceiling lease rate and giving the State Board of Land Commissioners power to fix all lease rates.

I further recommend the enactment of suitable legislation, with adequate appropriation, authorizing the Governor to appoint a commission to make a complete study of the whole problem of our present and future resources in forest and State-owned land, in order that a long-term policy and plan may be prepared and make report to the next Legislative Assembly to effectuate the best plan possible for saving and promoting the economic welfare of the State as it relates to our forest and State-owned land.

In my opinion no problem confronting the people of the state is of greater importance or more serious than the future of our highway system.

When our highways were constructed they were built to carry trucks then in use. No one could reasonably foresee the tremendous increase in size and carrying capacity of trucks or the increase in volume of heavy traffic that would eventually be moved over these arteries. The result has been that our highways are giving way and breaking up. The cost of maintenance has greatly increased and with the decline in revenue from gasoline tax, due to tire and gasoline rationing and other causes, it will be extremely difficult to properly maintain these highways. Additionally, all Federal funds for highway construction have been frozen. Thus new construction, refinements, and improvements cannot be made.

If the war continues for many years, and if the movement of heavy freight incident to the war effort continues—indeed it is expected to increase—at the end of the war, we shall find our highways in a deplorable condition, requiring millions of dollars to rebuild and rehabilitate.

I advise that a thorough and impartial study of past, present and future construction, maintenance, and financing be made so that appropriate legislation may be provided for a long-term highway program and for financing the rebuilding and rehabilitation of our roads following the war.

During the past five years gasoline refunds have averaged 20% of the total amount of gasoline taxes collected. With the rationing of gasoline it is likely that "black markets" will spring up which will not only reduce our highways revenue but may also materially increase refunds.

I therefore recommend that our laws relating to the collection of the gasoline tax as well as those relating to refunds be amended to afford the greatest measure of protection to the State.

The production of sufficient meats and other foodstuffs has become a serious problem. We have been requested by Federal authority to materially increase our production.

The State Water Conservation Board has carried on an extensive water conservation program. Many projects have been completed but to fully utilize present projects canals must be extended and the distribution system generally enlarged. When completed, these improvements will place 85,000 acres of fertile land under irrigation, thereby greatly increasing our contribution to the war effort. In most cases these improvements can be made without the use of any critical war material.

In view of the appalling food condition existing throughout the world, and the important part our country must take in its solution, both during and following the war, may I suggest that this subject be thoroughly explored in order that you may intelligently determine what if any action should be taken.

The insurance of State-owned property has been a most complicated problem and has been the subject of much criticism and a legislative investigation.

Prior to the expiration date of the old policy the State Board of Examiners undertook a careful and complete reappraisal of all property owned by the State. This was a tremendous task and required weeks of intensive study and investigation.

In fixing a policy for the insurance of this property we tried to determine what we as individuals would do if we owned the property. As a result we eliminated a large number of old buildings and structures, all carrying high insurance rates and which you would not insure if you owned the property. In consequence, and after calling for bids, we received a rate of 47.6 cents per hundred, with a policy form extremely favorable to the State, as compared with the old rate of 75 cents per hundred, resulting in a saving of $45,000.

The insurance of State-owned property is now on a sound business basis and I sincerely hope that future administrations will keep it on that basis.

Chapter 161, Laws of 1939, created the Montana Armory Board as a body politic and corporate, with powers among other things, to enter into contracts and be contracted with in any matter connected with any corporate power, to borrow money and issue bonds and to pledge any and all property and income of such board acquired or received to secure the payment of said bonds, to acquire and hold real and personal property for armory purposes, and to purchase sites and buildings or to purchase sites and construct buildings for armory purposes.

Acting under the authority thus granted the Armory Board issued and sold bonds and from the proceeds thereof constructed armories at Helena, Bozeman, and Wolf Point.

The outstanding bonded indebtedness is approximately $325,000.00.

The buildings constructed are being managed by the Board and all proceeds from rentals after payment of operating expenses, are being used to liquidate its indebtedness.

In my opinion this Act was ill-advised and at variance with every principle of our form of government. The Armory Board operates as and is considered a State agency although it is not accountable to the State, nor is it supervised by any State authority.

The present Armory Board has performed an outstanding service and its affairs are being conducted in a most satisfactory and businesslike manner, but there is no place for such a set-up under our plan of government. It is performing a State function and should be subject to lawful regulation and supervision.

I therefore respectfully suggest that a thorough investigation be made of the business transactions and activities of this Board, with a view of effecting some practical plan whereby the State may take over the property now owned by the Board at the earliest date and the State Armory Board abolished and the corporation dissolved.

During the war, absentee voting becomes of extreme importance because thousands of our men and women are in the Armed Forces and others are away from the State in war industries.

Our present laws were not designed to meet these conditions.

While we hope and pray that the war will be brought to a victorious conclusion long before the next general election, I recommend that proper legislation be enacted to protect these citizens in their right to vote should they be in the service of their country at that time.

In my message to the Twenty-seventh Legislative Assembly, I said: "Chapter 5, Laws of the Twenty-fifth Legislative Assembly, known as the 'Hitler Bill' empowers the Governor to hire and discharge all State employees, except those in elective offices. In my opinion this law is dangerous, in that it places too much power in the hands of one man. I strongly urge its repeal and the enactment of suitable laws providing for the appointment of employees."

This recommendation was not approved, and I now renew the request then made.

Notwithstanding our efforts to protect pedestrians and motorists, the record of accidents, fatalities and property loss is excessive.

It is my firm conviction that enactment and strict enforcement of a uniform drivers' license law, requiring examination for new drivers only, will minimize the toll now exacted by highway accidents.

The State has recognized its duty to protect the welfare of the aged, the neglected and dependent children and the blind. By virtue of action taken by the Twenty-seventh Legislative Assembly, the average monthly benefits to these have been increased during the past two years, as follows: Old Age Assistance $4.07; Neglected and Dependent Children $2.82; Blind $4.25. But these increases have been absorbed in the increased cost of living. It would therefore seem desirable that the laws relating to this subject be reframed so that these unfortunate people may receive assistance sufficient to meet present day conditions.

Under the provisions of Chapter 176, Laws of 1935, the State Water Conservation Board was designated as a State Planning Board, for the purpose of making and adopting a comprehensive plan for the physical development of the State and to make such related economic and social studies as may be needed for the future development of the state.

The Board has carried on extensive studies and surveys in many fields. Unfortunately, for the past four years no funds have been available to prosecute the work, except that relating to water conservation.

In the light of world conditions it is necessary that this work be carried on without interruption.

I therefore recommend that adequate appropriation be provided the Planning Board for that purpose.

Of increasing importance in the past two years have been the Federal-State relations. It could be expected that with the outbreak of the war the States would be called on more and more to assist in many of the war efforts. This State has cooperated with the Federal Government to the fullest extent.

I can assure you that Montana has taken its place in the roll of States anxious and willing to cooperate in any measure that will aid in bringing the war to a victorious end.

I cannot let this occasion pass without expressing my deep gratitude to all State officers, heads of departments, indeed all employees, for the loyal support and cooperation they have given me.

The game of politics is said to be a very fascinating one. But the halls of legislative bodies are not proper playing fields.

Senators and Representatives are elected to represent their respective communities, of course, but their obligation goes far beyond the confines of their counties. Upon their devotion to the whole State and its ultimate welfare depends the advancement in our governmental system towards the desired perfection. This consideration of the welfare of Montana as a whole is covered by the oath to which all of us subscribed when inducted into office in each of the coordinate branches of government.

Upon the sympathetic cooperation of these three branches depend the enactment, the interpretation and the enforcement of laws that will redound to the glory of the State, impose the least necessary burden upon our people, and give the smallest degree of annoyance incidental to the enforcement. We want nothing that will add to the harrassment of the citizenry, nothing that will tend to set neighbor against neighbor.

Members of the legislative branch of the government entertain a desire to make some contribution to the lasting good of the State in the sixty days of the session. A similar desire should be uppermost in the minds of all holders of public office. When these desires meet and find fruition in measures that enhance the welfare of Montana, then have we created a situation that is ideal, a situation that means the confidence of the people at large, a situation without which there can be no successful administration for the common good.

With this thought and this desire foremost as we go about our several tasks I am confident that we shall accomplish a schedule of legislative provisions that will earn the approval of the people and go far towards cementing the ties of confidence and esteem that should connect the layman and the lawmaker, the private citizen and the public servant.

The saying may be trite, but it is worth the saying again and again, that no legislative body may be judged by the volume of acts which it turns out during a session. It is entirely possible that a dozen laws, grounded in wisdom and equity and simple justice, may win greater acclaim from the people than hundreds of measures passed without due thought and with too little deliberation.

Let us strive diligently to earn the confidence and respect of the people of the State by wise legislation. Our heroes on every front in this global conflict are striving with every ounce of their strength and their intelligence, and they are going to have a large share in bringing the victory. Surely we at home cannot afford to do less than our level best to make this State an even better one in which to live when they come marching home.

Let us labor diligently to do our part so that when history is written it may be recorded that the Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly did its full share to preserve our form of government and our American way of life.

A RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE TWENTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE
STATE OF MONTANA

Each man to himself this day takes it for granted that his efforts will continue from day to day in the usual course of human events. Bent upon his own efforts and paying only passing heed to the joys and sorrows of others, until he comes face to face with the realization that the course of man must soon run out. Then does he pause to look about himself and then does he realize that his old friends have slipped from this earthly existence, one by one. This then leaves him with ground for serious reflection and contemplation over the vacant files in his host of steadily onward marching friends.

On this day we pause to reflect upon the transitory existence of man and to do honor to those whose courses have been run and whose earthly efforts have reached that point which must eventually come to each of us.

The vain cry of the bard who pleaded, "Backward, turn backward, O Time, in thy flight" has issued silently and secretly from the prayers of each of us, yet our pleadings and our supplications avail us naught, for the ruthless hand of time moves steadily on, and naught that man can do or say will stay the sweep of that hand which moves us all before it to the brink of eternity, and over the abyss.

A RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE TWENTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE
STATE OF MONTANA

Ralph E. "Red" Morrison was born in Arkansas in the year 1900, in which state he passed his youth. Before his seventeenth birthday he enlisted in the Armed Forces of the United States in 1917 and served his country with honor and distinction as a member of the American Expeditionary Forces to France during the first World War.

Coming to Montana in 1931 "Red" soon established the Morrison Flying School at Helena and the large numbers of his students who have received honors from our country attest to the thoroughness and care which he devoted to his students.

Recognizing his ability, sincerity, and honesty, the electors of Lewis and Clark County chose him to represent that county as a member of the House of Representatives of the Twenty-sixth Legislative Assembly. Following one term in the House he was elected Senator from his county, which capacity he filled until the time of his death.

Immediately following the declaration of war against Germany for the second time "Red" offered his service to his country and as soon as the welfare of his then students could be arranged, again entered the service of his country. He trained at Mather Field, near Sacramento, California, for a short time and his ability and leadership were immediately apparent. After his advanced flying course he was commissioned 1st Lieutenant and assigned to the Twenty-first Bombardment Group of the United States Army Air Corps and sent to MacDill Field, Florida, where he was on duty as an instructor in aviation at the time of his death.

Red came to an untimely death resulting from a crash of the plane in which he was flying near Avon Park, Florida, on December 24, 1942.

WHEREAS it has pleased the Creator of this universe to remove from our midst Ralph E. "Red" Morrison; and

WHEREAS many of the members of this Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly of the State of Montana were intimately acquainted with Red Morrison; and

WHEREAS he was a diligent worker, true to his convictions, loyal to his friends, and possessed a deep sense of responsibility to his state and nation; and

WHEREAS his sudden and untimely death came to him at a time when his services were being of the greatest value to his country; and

WHEREAS he died as he lived, in an unselfish devotion to his ideals and in the performance of the greatest privilege and the highest duty of citizenship; and

WHEREAS he was a pioneer in the aviation industry in Montana and contributed to the development and furtherance of that industry beyond measure; and

WHEREAS this Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly of the State of Montana deeply mourns his passing,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the House of Representatives of the Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly of the State of Montana, expressing the sentiment of the entire population of our state do express to the members of his family our sincere and heart-felt condolences in their time of bereavement and our assurances that we share with them in their loss. May they receive comfort in the knowledge that they do not share their bereavement alone and that the entire citizenry of the State of Montana glories in the splendid heritage which he has left to them and to us,

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his family and spread upon the Journal of this House.

ANDERSON of Phillips.

The Speaker signed House Bill No. 6 in Open Session.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The following House Memorial was read and it was moved by Parker of Flathead, duly seconded and carried, that the Memorial be adopted.

HOUSE MEMORIAL NO. 1

Introduced by Charles A. Bovey, Arthur Hageman, Neil C. Parker, Ray Lowe, and S. P. Wilson:

To the War Production Board and Secretary of Agriculture Requesting Re-consideration of Both National Quotas of New Farm Machinery for 1943 and the Present State Quotas.

WHEREAS: The War Production Board has seen fit to severely curtail the 1943 production of farm machinery, despite representations of need by County and State War Boards and the Secretary of Agriculture, and despite the fact that the steel needed for producing farm machinery is a very small percentage of total annual steel production and further despite the fact that more farm machinery is needed in order to meet 1943 war production goals of food and fiber crops and to replace lost farm labor, and

WHEREAS: The quotas of both 1943 farm machinery production and other new machinery which it has been necessary to set up to allocate available supplies entails unfortunate discriminations among states, counties and individual farmers needing machinery and replacements, and

WHEREAS: As an example of the foregoing, Montana now needing hammer mills and feed grinders for grinding winter feed for livestock and having requests for approximately 500, has been allotted only 49 in comparison with 379 allotted North Dakota whose total livestock units are practically the same as the State of Montana.

WHEREAS: A survey conducted among the many members of the House of Representatives who are engaged in agricultural pursuits, revealed that inability to buy sufficient badly needed farm machinery is one of the major factors which threaten to seriously handicap food production.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, By the House of Representatives in Session Assembled:

That we petition the War Production Board and the Secretary of Agriculture to reconsider both the national quotas of new farm machinery for 1943 and the present state quotas to the end that quotas may be increased and more equitably allocated and that farmers may be equipped to handle the huge task of farm production which it is well known is so vital to the successful prosecution of the war and the feeding of our armed forces, our allied soldiers and our civilian workers.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that a copy thereof properly attested by the Speaker and the Clerk of the House, be transmitted by the Secretary of State to the War Production Board, Donald M. Nelson, Chairman, and to Claude R. Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from Montana.

It was moved by Dillavou, duly seconded and carried, that the House recess until 2:15 o'clock P. M.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

January 18, 1943.

Mr. Speaker,
House of Representatives,
Helena, Montana.

I have the honor to transmit herewith two documents designated respectively as "Report No. 1" and "Report No. 2", which have come to me from the Council of State Governments.

Under the general title of "Suggested War Legislation for 1943" these documents include specifically proposals for a "State Emergency War Powers Act", an "Executive Statutory Suspension Act", an "Emergency Transportation Act", a "Revised Explosives Act", "Emergency Fiscal Legislation", and other proposals.

It will be seen that these suggested measures were drafted by the Special War Policies Unit of the Federal Department of Justice in cooperation with the Council of State Governments, and it is assumed that similar and uniform legislation is being proposed to all of the States in which Legislatures are sitting this year.

These documents do not in every instance represent my views on the matter touched upon, and they are transmitted without recommendation other than that your honorable body will give to each of the proposed bills your most serious and painstaking consideration.

SAM C. FORD, Governor.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

January 25, 1943.

The Speaker,
House of Representatives,
Helena, Montana.

Re-employment of our fighting men when they come home is one of the problems which we must face and, in so far as may be possible, provide for at the current session of the Legislative Assembly. It is not peculiarly a postwar problem, because already some of our Montana boys are being sent home, and the number will progressively increase as the days go by.

We may do much to cushion the coming shock of unemployment by providing for the activities of the Veterans' Welfare Commission, which was created at the close of World War I to attain this very object (Sec. 5660 et seq., Revised Codes of Montana, of 1935).

This Commission has been functioning through the intervening years and is still in existence, although the necessity for its activities in the veterans' behalf has not been so acute in recent years. This body may very well be depended upon to render assistance in the placement of our returning service men, and if those who are periodically sent home can be given the benefit of this assistance as the need arises we shall have provided by so much against the great problem that will be confronting us when the victory has been achieved and the war ended.

I therefore strongly recommend that you provide an adequate appropriation for the active operation of the Veterans' Welfare Commission, so that it may be prepared to render the service for which it was created.

SAM C. FORD, Governor.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE OF SENATE AND HOUSE ON FEASIBILITY OF AIR CONDITIONING THE CAPITOL BUILDING

We, your joint committee of Senate and House, beg leave to report as follows:

Your joint committee made a complete survey of the Capitol Building in company with Mr. J. G. Link, an architect of Billings, Montana. We found that a considerable amount of ventilating equipment had been installed a number of years ago, but through the years, certain portions of the various units had ceased to function, more through neglect than through wear.

According to the original plan, one large cooling and ventilating unit, with a capacity of 6000 cubic feet of air per minute, is installed in the west end of the building and is designed to care for that portion of the building. All proper conduits are in place and are functioning to some extent at the present time. But in the House, wide boards to which the loud speakers are attached, have been fastened over two inlets, thereby restricting the flow of fresh air and impairing the operation of the plant. Minor repairs and adjustments should be made.

In the Senate, two air fans have been installed. Some time during the past the inlets have been completely covered by a blackboard and cardboard and another emergency opening has been cut. The exhaust fans are not being used, due to the fact that a small portion of the air duct has been removed.

The unit designed to care for the Supreme Court chamber is not working because certain parts have been removed. The motor is obsolete and no up-to-date motors have been installed.

The unit designed to care for the east wing of the building has been partially dismantled and should be thoroughly rebuilt. This unit cares for the Historical Library, the Governor's Office, the Attorney General's office and the Law Library.

We wish to call to the attention of this body the fact that the books in the libraries are deteriorating rapidly, due to excessive heat and lack of humidity. This affects particularly the leather and bindings of the books in the Law Library and, unless some remedial measure is adopted, serious damage will result to the books contained therein.

Such are the conditions as we find them.

We recommend that sufficient money be appropriated to put these various units into working order; that air washers be installed on three units; that proper automatic and thermostatic controls be installed; that certain deflectors be installed in all necessary places; that all exhaust fans be placed in operation and that very definite instructions be given to the custodian of the building to keep these units functioning properly at all times.

All units of the system are manually operated at the present time, but your committee feels that automatic controls will very definitely save fuel and add immeasurably to the comfort of those who work in the building.

We further recommend that the State Board of Examiners be instructed to see that these recommendations are carried out as soon as possible.

A supplemental report from the architect is attached hereto for your consideration.

For the House

Report adopted.

It was moved by Williams, duly seconded and carried, that the report of the select committee regarding air conditioning be referred to the committee on appropriations for further consideration.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 16, 1943.

The Speaker of the House,
House of Representatives,
Helena, Montana.

Herewith I am returning House Bill No. 47, entitled, "An act to amend Section 2000.6 of the Revised Codes of Montana of 1935, providing a basis for imposition of taxes on moneys and credits, moneyed capital and bank shares", without my approval and with my objections thereto.

If approved, this measure would reduce the percentage of true and full value of moneyed capital and shares of banks, for taxing purposes, from thirty (30) per cent to fifteen (15) per cent—a reduction of fifty per cent.

While I am persuaded that under existing circumstances, conditions over which they have no control, the banks are justified in seeking some relief from the heavy tax burden, yet it must be admitted that a similar situation exists in many small businesses and with individuals.

Hundreds of small businessmen, automobile dealers, service station operators, and so on, have been forced out of business by reason of restrictions growing out of the war, while hundreds of others are barely able to hang on. Yet no reduction in their taxes or assessments has been proposed, and they will be required to pay taxes on the same basis as in previous years, regardless of their unhappy plight.

The law as it stands today with respect to the taxation of shares of banks has been in existence for many years, and while it may be perfectly true that our entire tax structure should be revised, it seems to me that until that shall have been accomplished we should not select any one group for the bestowal of relief.

Here is another side to the present question which may not be overlooked. The reduction proposed in this measure would result in a saving to the banks of the state of approximately $150,000 a year. It is highly improbable that counties, cities and school districts will be able to reduce their expenditures during the emergency. On the contrary, it is but reasonable to expect that their expenditures will be increased because of the ever-increasing cost of operation. In consequence this $150,000 saved to the banks would of necessity be made up from other sources, namely, increased property taxes.

House Bill No. 47 presents a fundamental question of taxation: Are the banks, by using a uniform standard of measurement under the existing classification law, being taxed higher than other classes of property in Montana?

A standard of measurement which permits a relative comparison is the percentage factor that the taxes paid bear to the capital structure. This appeals to me as a fair and just standard to employ.

From a study made in the limited time at my disposal I am convinced that this percentage factor does not show that the banks are discriminated against to any appreciable extent. But it does indicate that our entire tax structure should be given careful and expert study and revision in order to correct inequities in our classification law as they apply to all taxpayers.

Another feature of the question arising with this Bill impresses me, this being that should the measure become a law it would create resentment among other classes of taxpayers who have not been singled out for special legislation, and this would cost the banks in public respect, confidence and good will much more than could be estimated in the dollars and cents saved in taxes.

For the reasons set forth, I am compelled to withhold my signature from House Bill No. 47.

SAM C. FORD, Governor.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker: We, your Joint Special Committee appointed to investigate conditions at the Montana State Hospital, have made such examination, and respectfully report and herewith present said report.

OLIVER, Chairman,
WENGER,
BOVEY.

It was moved by Dillavou, duly seconded and carried, that, inasmuch as a copy of the report of the Select Committee was given to all members, that the report be considered read at length and the Journal so show. The report is as follows:

MONTANA STATE HOSPITAL

Mr. Speaker: We, your Special Joint Committee of the House and Senate, appointed to investigate conditions at the Montana State Hospital at Warm Springs, submit herewith our report on such investigation.

A request has been registered that this report be made at considerable length and in detail, and there seems to be good reason for acceding to such request, namely, (a) because the members of the legislature and the people of the state generally wish to have the full facts with regard to conditions at Warm Springs, (b) because time and distance do not permit many people to make personal visits to this hospital and see for themselves just how things are, and (c) because such inspection tours are disturbing to the patients and not to their best interests; hence are to be discouraged. Because of these reasons, we feel members of the legislature should be given the complete story and thus be in a position to know all the details of our findings.

The responsibility for the welfare of these patients and the conditions under which they live, lies after all with the legislature and the people of the state, and is merely passed down, through the Governor and the State Board of Examiners, to the superintendent of the institution, who in turn is held accountable. The superintendent's task has been made difficult lately because of numerous factors, among which may be noted the following: (a) lack of sufficient appropriations to meet the many needs of the patients and the institution, (b) the stoppage, due to the war emergency, of construction of new buildings at the institution, for which bonds were voted by the state in 1940, which still leaves a badly overcrowded condition there, and (c) an apparent division of authority at the institution which has hampered the superintendent in his management of affairs.

GENERAL MANAGEMENT

This apparent division of authority resulted from the setting up of three departments of endeavor at the institution, each with its own head, in keeping with the recommendations of the Reorganization Committee. These three division heads are presumably answerable to the superintendent. But, while the medical and nursing divisions are so closely associated with the superintendent as to look to him for guidance, the division of business management has rather come to regard itself as a separate entity; and since the head of this division had his appointment from Helena and not from the superintendent, he does not feel answerable to the superintendent to any great degree. There seems to be no outright conflict between the two, but the relationship is strained, and they manage to work together in a fair degree of harmony by each keeping off the other fellow's ground. This situation, however, is expected to be cleared up through legislation now before the assembly, which will give the superintendent full authority to choose his own assistants.

BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

In the actual management of affairs about the institution, some questions have been raised, your committee learned, as to the judgment and ability of the present business manager. These have to do with the work about the farm particularly and may in some cases be justified, while in others it can be shown that the business manager is not himself to blame if some undertakings have been called into question. It seems a mistake has been made in combining the two jobs of hog raising and chicken raising and placing them both under one head, with the result that egg production fell off badly and some loss was experienced among the hogs. This combination was made presumably in the interests of economy to save the wages of one man. But the man now in charge of these two jobs had had no experience with chickens, whereas he is a good hog man. And the man in charge of farm operations would do much better, it seems, looking after the chickens. But, as things have turned out, the former head of farm operations, who was considered an excellent man in that position, had to be dismissed about a year ago (because of drunkenness) and the man in charge of chickens shifted over to that job. So this difficulty in farm management may be attributed to poor judgment or necessity, as one may feel inclined to think, or as further information on the subject may reveal.

Considerable talk has been occasioned by certain other farm mix-ups also, and should be explained here. One of these had to do with the hay contract that was entered into last summer with the owner of a ranch some miles away. A crew of "patient" help was taken to this ranch to put up the hay on shares. Bad weather set in; the crew spent several weeks there; and when the hay was stacked the institution could not use it to advantage, partly because of the poor quality and partly because it was too far away. So the hay was traded to the ranchman who owned the place for a price of $5.50 a ton, and beef cattle were taken in pay. Some difficulty arose over this with other stockmen who had been promised the contract of furnishing beef to the institution. But the matter was settled when the institution agreed to use this beef obtained on said trade, only as extra rations for patients and employees, and not as a replacement for the beef the institution had agreed to buy.

Another deal which caused still more talk was in regard to potatoes. This deal seems to have been made by the State Purchasing Agent, and not by the business manager at all. That arrangement was made with a neighboring farmer that he should grow a certain acreage of potatoes for the institution, place them on top of the ground at digging time for 50c per hundred pounds, and the patients would then pick them and place them in the cellars. This man, according to accounts, was late in getting his potatoes in the ground. Then he watered them too much in the late summer in an effort to put all the growth on them he could, with the result that they did not ripen. This delayed the digging until freezing weather came. He managed finally to get a portion of the crop dug, and the institution picked these up and paid for them as agreed, although they were watery and of poor quality. The others were frozen in the ground, with a loss, not only to the farmer, but also to the institution, because the institution then had to purchase its remaining supply of potatoes at $1.50 per hundred.

There was a little difficulty also about some carrots raised by this same farmer. The farmer was to plant the carrots; the institution was to thin and care for them; and the farmer then would dig them in the fall. The farmer, it was said, complained because he thought the carrots were not thinned enough, that had they been thinned they would have grown much larger and yielded more for him. But the kitchen declares the carrots are just the right size for their use, that they would not want them any larger. We gave this farmer every opportunity to appear and register with this Committee any complaint that he might have, but he did not show up.

BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT

While there are several large brick dormitories at the Montana State Hospital, the place generally reminds one of an old, run down ranch, with buildings of all sizes and types stuck here and there, according to the notion and need of the particular builder at time of construction. The barns, for example, are hardly more than sheds and would certainly be cleared away and replaced by something at least fairly modern by any progressive rancher who thought to operate a spread of this size. The cows, of which there are perhaps 150 milked, and milked by hand, are housed in a weather-beaten barn through which the wintry winds find many an opening, but into which the sun can hardly shine at all. There are only a few stanchions in the barn; most of the cows are tied with ropes. The hog building is nothing more than a shed, open at one end, with no sunlight provided for. The chicken houses are inadequate to care properly or fully for the flocks the institution needs. Some new chicken houses are needed badly.

The laundry falls far short of meeting the requirements of the institution, so that it must be operated Sundays, as well as every day, to keep fresh linen and other articles of clothing for the more than 2,000 patients and employees. How long this laundry has been in use, or how hard it has been used, may be judged by the grooves worn in the hardwood floor—almost through the floor in fact—where individual workers have stood and ironed at the circular affair which constitutes their set of stationary ironing boards with the individual boards sticking out like the spokes of a great wheel. A mangle of uncertain age is used for the sheets and pillow cases. Otherwise the work would never be performed. This laundry building, three stories high but covering a small ground space, might be used to good advantage as a recreation center for employees—a thing greatly needed at Warm Springs—if and when a new laundry of sufficient size and proper equipment is built to take its place.

Among the dormitories are several wooden buildings, mostly two stories high, which are virtually fire traps for the patients housed within. A good example of the crowded condition of the institution may be observed in these old buildings. Cottage A, for instance, houses 58 women patients, with beds crowded almost as close as they will stand, upstairs and down. And for the 58 patients there is one old-fashioned bathtub downstairs. Cottage B, another wooden building of about the same size, houses 67 women patients, has one bathtub downstairs and only three toilets for the two floors. Cottage F, where are kept the worst women cases, houses 66 patients, with bath and toilet facilities about the same as for the other cottages mentioned. This building has some two or more towers at the upper corners where women attendants have rooms, but no means of escape from these towers has been provided should a fire break out. Still another, larger dormitory, has the appearance of being made of brick, but is only brick veneer and as much a fire trap as the others named. Such is the condition of the old buildings, which should have been replaced long ago with modern, fire-proof structures.

The equipment is antiquated all through the institution. Much of the plumbing dates back to an early age. The problem of heating is difficult from the central heating plant, because of the poor arrangement of the buildings and the dilapidated condition of some. The kitchen and bakery display the worst shortcomings of all in equipment. Here the work must go on regardless. And the implements are old style and crude beyond belief. There is no mechanical refrigeration except for a small unit at the hospital ward. Ice is used in summer for such cooling as can be maintained by this method. The cooking is done largely by steam, with the food placed in large metal caldrons for this purpose. And for baking bread the institution makes use of old brick ovens, built forty years ago and still fired with wood. These ovens must be kept going almost constantly to turn out the 2,000 loaves of bread a day the institution requires, so that they seldom can be used to bake other foodstuffs. For supplying the dining rooms each meal time, the food is placed in open metal containers of some fifteen-gallon capacity and wheeled through long tunnels to the various buildings, each of which has its own dining room. These containers naturally get hard treatment but, being made of heavy metal, they hold heat well and deliver it in fair condition to the plates on the dining tables. Some ten or twelve steam carts, which can be plugged into light sockets to keep the food warm when once delivered, are needed for this purpose but cannot be obtained during the present war emergency.

FOOD

Much complaint has been made about the food in times past. Because of this, and in accordance with recommendations made by a committee of the House of Representatives, which investigated Warm Springs two years ago, a dietitian was employed some time back to look after the planning and preparation of the meals. Before the advent of this dietitian, Mrs. Wolfe, there were many stories told of how employees of the institution would make away with food supplies which were meant for the kitchen but failed to reach that destination. So Mrs. Wolfe saw that a check was made of all foods leaving the commissary, cellars, or butcher shop, and then a second check when these reached the kitchen. Thus she made sure that the foods she ordered got to the kitchen and to the patients—not to someone else. Her planning of meals is done a week ahead so that no difficulty is encountered in getting foods delivered at the right times, and her menus are prepared with a view to keeping the meals varied in make-up, appearance and taste so that these will be attractive as well as properly balanced.

No elaborate meals could be expected at the price of 6.3c each, and it seems remarkable that such wholesome meals as Mrs. Wolfe's menus for December show, could be put out at that price. Here are listed the menus for three days, the 24th, 25th and 26th of December, 1942, chosen thus to show what was served on Christmas Day, while the other two days represent fairly well what the menus showed all through the month. Something a little special was always served on Sunday.

In the hospital ward we found that pains are taken to provide each patient with the special food he needs. Each plate is prepared for the individual patient and has his name placed on it. Many of the patients in the hospital ward come to a central dining room for their meals, but that rule holds for these as well as for those patients who are confined to their rooms.

That the meals are actually much like those shown on the menus was proven to our satisfaction when we reached the Warm Springs institution unannounced at noon and went directly to the dining rooms to observe what was placed on the tables and how the patients reacted to the meal. One thing immediately noticeable was that the patients were cleaning up their food with considerable gusto. The plates were heaped with a stew of mixed vegetables and meat which gave off a savory odor and appeared tempting to one who cares for stew. Some patients had already cleaned up their plates and were reaching for more from a large dish in the center of the table. All were eating heartily.

It might be said that the meals are served on small, square tables which accommodate six or eight persons. Thus all can reach the main dish in the center. But the original serving on the plates is placed there by waiters or attendants before the meal starts, the plates being warmed beforehand to keep the food hot. It is perhaps a fact, as a study of the menus indicates, that the meals are an unending succession of stews, beans, and such boiled foods, with an abundance of fair quality bread, some butter, and now and then perhaps an egg. The reason for the stews has already been indicated, that the kitchen facilities afford little chance to prepare the food in any other way.

CARE OF ROOMS AND PATIENTS

In spite of the antiquated equipment all through the institution—plumbing, heating, laundry, kitchen, old worn floors, and the like—this much can be said, that everything is kept clean. The floors are clean, the kitchen, dining halls, dormitories, bedding, and the patients. The men wore old clothes as a rule, some of which may have been shabby and somewhat ragged. The women were more tidy, some actually dolled up. Many of the men work about the barns, others inside. And all the patients who can, whether men or women, are given regular work to do. For example, we came into a dormitory about 3:30 in the afternoon and noticed that a patient had already begun to fold up the white spreads with which all the beds are covered during the day. That seems to be this patient's regular job, but evidently he was in too big a hurry to perform the same that afternoon, for the attendant reminded him he was to leave those spreads on till 4:30 and told him to wait until that time. The beds are made up by the patients themselves, and they are all nicely made. Not with each patient making his own bed each morning, but with certain patients assigned that particular job. And there is often trouble if one patient reaches over and infringes on the other man's territory.

PATIENT TREATMENT

There are two schools of thought these days with regard to patient treatment, the old school and the new. The old school places all insane patients in one big class, some worse than others, of course, but all insane and forever hopeless. The only thing one can do is to look after them physically and make them keep their places. This school is represented largely by the older attendants, and one finds this type of attendant at every state institution, including Warm Springs. The new school holds to the belief that insanity is a mental illness that can be treated individually and cured in many cases. Under this modern school of thought, a hundred different types of mental illness, more or less, are set up and the individual patient given treatment according to his particular ailment. Such individual treatment requires more room than is available at the institution at the present time, and calls for the segregation of patients according to their type of mental illness.

The fact that there are two such schools of thought, and each strong in its belief, creates a situation at our state hospital which is anything but harmonious. Dr. Holmes, a woman of great character and considerable driving force, is endeavoring to move "heaven and earth" to put into effect this modern method of treatment at Warm Springs, to the end that patients may be restored to a normal state of mental health and released eventually from the institution. This method calls for many different kinds of treatments, according to the particular need, therapeutic and psychopathic. Therapeutic treatments, such as insulin and metrozol injections, are already being tried to good effect, and others, such as the electric shock treatment, will be used when the equipment can be secured. A large factor, however, in the treatment of those patients who offer some promise of recovery, is the personal approach, the leading of the patients back to a normal mode of thought through occupational and recreational diversions.

Dr. Holmes endeavors to make use of all these methods of treatment for the improvement of the patients. Considerable opposition has arisen to her efforts in some respects. One of the difficulties arises in the matter of mixed dancing. The practice of occasional dances for the patients was instituted at Warm Springs some months ago but complaints have come from many of the attendants of their bad effect upon the patients. A considerable noise has been stirred up about these dances, and your committee is not prepared to say first hand whether they actually are harmful or not. We have the information from thirteen other state institutions of the kind, that they have been holding dances for the patients for many years past and that they regard them as highly beneficial. Under the present circumstances, however, where strong opposition to the dances exists at the Warm Springs institution, we would suggest that great care should be taken in selection of patients who are allowed to attend the dances and that strict supervision of the dances be maintained.

Another matter for discord at Warm Springs is over the classes that have been set up to teach something of psychiatry to nurses and attendants. This instruction is not required of attendants, it is merely offered and the attendants urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to learn a little of the subject. There seems to have developed a positive rebellion against attendance at the classes or having anything to do with this instruction—this on the part of those attendants, of course, who have been brought up in the old school. There is a feeling among some people deeply interested, that attendants at our state hospital should be required to take this work.

However, considering the opposition that now exists and the scarcity of other available help, it would seem unwise to make this an issue now.

Certain definite work in psychiatric training has, however, been carried on at our state hospital for the past two years or more. This is, the student nurses who are sent there for three month training periods from various nursing schools about the state. These student nurses, sixteen in number now, are given room and board and paid $12 a month by the state. They in turn spend half their working hours helping in the hospital and devote the other half to studying that special subject for which they have been sent to this institution. It is expected that some of these nurses will follow up this special work in psychiatry in their later training, and a few perhaps return to work at our own state hospital. There is a movement on foot now to get the federal government to put up a building for housing student nurses who will take special work in psychiatry.

The ultimate objective which Dr. Holmes and others of her school would reach, is the establishment of a mental hygiene clinic for people with disturbed minds; this clinic to conduct examinations for stated periods at appointed places in the state. Early help in setting such people right will save many from reaching a condition where commitment to our state hospital seems necessary. Such an objective will, no doubt, be realized some day here, as it has been in certain other states. This seems too great an undertaking now, and too costly to be thought of at the present time, particularly when the hospital itself is suffering a serious shortage of doctors within its own walls. The nearest approach to this objective that can be hoped for now is the careful examination of patients as they come in, to determine whether they are actually insane or not. And, following that, the continued treatment of the milder cases already at the institution to prepare them for release to their home communities and reestablishment in the normal ways of life.

The methods of commitment to our state hospital and release therefrom have been harsh up to this time, but measures are now before the legislature which promise a much better handling of the whole matter, with safeguards against hurrying people off to the hospital as insane when no one of experience has had a chance to pass on their cases. Likewise, in the matter of release, legislation pending would give those patients not actually insane some chance for a discharge from the institution, where otherwise, they would in all probability be retained for the balance of their lives. The transfer of certain patients not actually insane, but of weak mind, to the State Training School at Boulder, has been recognized as desirable for some years past and is expected to be taken care of through legislation now before this assembly. The removal of patients from the institution by the methods mentioned and the slowing up of commitments through more careful examination, will do much to relieve the overcrowded condition of that hospital and, at the same time, cut down much of the present running expense.

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

The successful operation of any institution, while it must have good management, can only be carried out through the loyal cooperation of efficient help. For this reason, the problems of the help at our state hospital must be given some consideration. In general, the wages should be higher and the food somewhat better, although no great complaint is heard on these scores. The hours of work are easier than they were two years ago, having been reduced from twelve hours a day to eight. Mention had been made of the need for a recreation hall for the employees, but this is something that cannot be worked out at present. The one thing that does produce complaints is the manner of issuing commissary provisions to the families who do not eat at the employees dining room but who live in separate homes. The practice has been to allow each family $25 worth of supplies from the commissary in lieu of the meals the worker might otherwise eat at the employees' table and the feeling is that this amount is not enough. A better way would be to give such families higher wages and let them buy all their own supplies.

While some improvements in the set-up at Warm Springs have been effected since the assembly last met, and other changes are provided for in legislation now pending, our state hospital is a long way from being the kind of institution we might well like as a place to send our unfortunate friends. To begin with, the location of the state hospital will always be regretted. We should, perhaps, forgive and forget past errors, especially when committed by others than ourselves, but no one can ever forget the mistake that was made in locating the Montana State Hospital on its present site, or of the purchase of any such land for a state institution. The land itself remains there as a constant mockery. Had a thorough search beforehand been made from end to end of this great state for the express purpose of finding the poorest piece of soil in the state on which to build an institution where we might dump our poor unfortunates, that particular farm close to Warm Springs would undoubtedly have been chosen as the place sought.

It is nothing more than an alkali flat, with nothing to commend it in any way unless it be the spring which bubbles up and forms a great cone-shaped mound in the middle of the farm, the waters of which are of no apparent value for medicinal purposes and have never been put to any use. The water level is so high where the buildings stand that use of the basements is almost out of question. Where there are basements, there is a constant seepage of water so alkaline in character that the cement soon goes to pieces. Of the 1352 acres in the farm project, only 20 to 30 acres are at all tillable, and even with intensive efforts in draining, fertilization, and cultivation, hardly more than half a crop can be realized in a good season. Fully 80% of the farming must be done at a distance of from 3 to 15 miles from Warm Springs, and except for the benefits which result to the men from getting out and helping with this farm work—a sort of occupational therapy—the products thus obtained might better be purchased outright or raised on some other state farm and shipped to Warm Springs.

Given such a farm, such soil on which to build, such a jumble of ill-assorted structures to be termed an institution, combine these with an attitude of "put them out of sight, keep them out of mind, cut appropriations to the bone"—such an attitude as has been displayed for years past by our legislature and our people generally, and you have what we call the Montana State Hospital. The accepted notion all through the state of what Warm Springs represents—a correct notion largely—is that of a place to herd together a lot of poor nuts, lock them up, and leave them.

Such is not the ideal a humane, enlightened people should hold regarding their hospital for the mentally afflicted. Rather, it should be thought of as a place where comfort is afforded, where surroundings are conducive to a cheerful frame of mind, where food is well selected and prepared, where interests are provided to capture the attention of those poor befuddled minds, where personal care and attention are given each individual and where the best medical and psychiatric service is available to all. Until the people of Montana come to think of their hospital in this light, until they get hold of the idea of making their institution a place for the tender treatment and cure of mental ills instead of a wretched prison, Warm Springs will continue in bad grace and repute, regardless of the valiant efforts of devoted workers there to lift it out of that miserable category.

If any institution in the state has been forgotten—cast off and denied, it is Warm Springs. Warm Springs patients living these days on 6.3 cents a meal! How can a broken mind regain its health and equilibrium unless the body is well nourished? Miracles are being wrought now in the kitchen with the money this state niggardly allots, that is true, nevertheless, an attendant whose word can be relied upon, who looks after a ward of men at certain hours, whose job it is, among other things, to bathe them, makes the considered statement that these men have pods, not stomachs, after months of near starvation.

Food, good housing, care, these are the things needed to restore sick people to normal health. The housing problem will have to wait, of course, until materials are available again. But the care of patients cannot wait. And the proper care of this class of patients requires skillful, well-trained workers. A startling situation exists at Warm Springs, in that for the nearly two thousand patients there are only two doctors, besides the superintendent. Two thousand mentally sick patients! The standard set by the American Psychiatric Association for hospitals of this kind is one doctor to one hundred fifty patients. Warm Springs would need eight or ten trained psychiatrists to come anywhere near that standard; doctors who would be employed to direct and supervise the treatment of these patients. Under such a set-up, more careful examinations could be given to determine the treatment needed for each patient, and his response to that treatment followed closely. This is the ideal picture, one we must strive to realize if we would do the fair thing by these afflicted people. And, while eight more doctors is a number not to be thought of now, the addition of two or three is imperative, it seems. With salaries provided that will bring trained men or women, and equipment furnished with which they can accomplish some results.

Summing briefly this report, the following specific things should be kept in mind:

1. That appropriations should be increased rather than decreased for the current needs of the institution.
2. That buildings and equipment should be modernized as soon as possible, but not until after the war, of course.
3. That the superintendent should be, without question, the administrative and executive head and be held accountable.
4. That the institution is understaffed to the point where proper care and treatment of the patients is impossible.
5. That better salaries be provided for the doctors and others in key positions, and better wages generally.
6. That psychiatric treatment of the patients should be stressed and cures affected wherever possible, to the end that those cured may be released.
7. That careful observation over a sufficient period of time be made of incoming patients to make sure these actually are insane before they are committed as such.
8. That a considerable economic benefit will result and a great saving to the state by thus weeding out those patients who have no business at this institution which will give better care for those who must remain.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 2, 1943.

The Speaker of the House,
House of Representatives,
Helena, Montana.

I am returning herewith House Bill No. 111, entitled; "An Act to permit the catching of catfish and pike with setlines and the number thereof in portions of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers", etc., without my approval and with my objections thereto.

Under the terms of this Bill it would be lawful to catch catfish and pike with setlines at any season of the year in the lower reaches of the Missouri and Yellowstone rivers in this State. One section provides that the State Fish and Game Commission shall have regulatory powers in these areas, as may be deemed necessary to meet local conditions.

At present, these streams are open at all seasons to fishing as provided in Section 3694. Catfish are not classed in Section 3681 as game fish, and it is therefore lawful to take them on setlines in the waters defined in House Bill No. 111. It would thus seem that the purpose of the Bill is to permit the taking of pike with setlines. Pike are the only game fish of importance in these designated portions of the two streams, and it has been and is the policy of the Fish and Game Commission to conserve and increase the pike population. House Bill No. 111 might easily frustrate these plans.

Again, the bill limits to three the number of setlines to be used by any one person, but it does not set a limit upon the number of hooks on a line. There is nothing therein to prevent the use of setlines reaching from bank to bank of the river and containing as many as fifty hooks. Such methods were employed a number of years ago. Therefore, in attempting to set a limit on the number of fish to be taken daily, as provided in Section 2, the commission would be faced by a very difficult question, it being palpably impossible to know how many fish would be taken on lines set over night.

Our existing Section 3653 gives the Fish and Game Commission the authority which is conveyed in Section 2 of this Bill. It seems to me that we may very well leave the matter in the hands of the Commission, rather than open up the way to a situation that might prove difficult to deal with and that might pave the way to inroads that would impair the efforts of the Commission in the protection of our fish resources.

Because of these reasons I feel disposed to withhold my signature from House Bill No. 111.

SAM C. FORD, Governor.

Whereupon the question of whether or not House Bill No. 111 would become a law notwithstanding the Governor's veto was put and the veto was sustained by the following vote:

Noes: Anderson of Phillips, Anderson of Lewis and Clark, Anson, Antrim, Atkinson, Baldwin, Blewett, Bourassa, Bovey, Bricker, Brumbaugh, Busch, Castles, Chaffin, Cole, Dallas, Dillavou, Dougherty, Dunn, Esp, Fallan, Fewkes, Flook, Foot, Gebhardt, Graybill, Hageman, Harken, Hazelbaker, Holje, Horrigan, Hughes, Hunter, James, Kemmis, Kimpel, McCleery, McDaniel, McMichael, Mutch, Nelson, Padbury, Page, Parker of Wibaux, Patterson, Peterson, Scofield, Simpson, Standish, Wright, Mr. Speaker. Total 51.

Absent and not voting: Aronson, Blenkner, Byrne, Gunderson, Krieg, LaBonte, Martin, Parker of Flathead, Potter, Rice, Settle, Simon, Williams, Winters. Total 14.

SAM C. FORD, Governor.

March 3, 1943.

The Speaker of the House,
House of Representatives,
Helena, Montana.

The members of this Assembly in common with the people of the entire State have been shocked and grieved by the news of the terrible mine disaster at Bear Creek. The full extent of the catastrophe is not yet known, but I am impelled to address this message to your honorable body because of the near approach of the closing hour of the session.

This is written to recommend that the Assembly enact a Bill carrying an appropriation of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), this amount or so much thereof as may be necessary to be expended under the Governor's direction in conducting a thorough examination into the cause of the disaster.

In making this recommendation I want to make it plain that there is not the slightest imputation of lack of thoroughness or perfect fairness in any investigation that will be made by the operating coal mine company or anyone connected therewith. However, it seems entirely proper as well as advisable that the State shall conduct its own independent investigation, to the end that our people may know that the proper agencies of their government are sympathetic and eager to ascertain every possible fact that may have a bearing upon the causes contributing to the Bear Creek horror, and that such information may be of value in the prevention of disasters in the future.

IN MEMORIAM

Our fellow men who perished in the catastrophe which occurred in the coal mines near Bear Creek, Montana, on February 27, 1943, gave their very best efforts to building for the betterment of the community in which they lived. They built their homes, reared their families, tilled the soil, built their schools, erected their churches where they might worship God, cared for the poor, loved their fellow men and walked with God in their determination to make the place in which they lived better for their having stopped along the journey of life.

In memory of those who perished in this catastrophe, we, the members of the Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly of Montana, in session assembled, do express our deep sympathy and condolence to the families of those who were lost in the tragic accident.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 4, 1943.

The Speaker of the House,
House of Representatives,
Helena, Montana.

I am returning herewith House Substitute for Senate Bill No. 2, entitled

"An Act relating to tax deeds and legalizing and validating tax deeds heretofore issued", etc., without my approval and with my objections thereto.

This Act declares that any tax deed heretofore issued shall not be held invalid by reason of any defect in form, substance or amount stated to be due in the notice, and legalizes and validates all tax deeds heretofore issued, provided thirty days' notice of the application for tax deed was given instead of the sixty days' notice now required by Section 2209, Revised Codes of Montana of 1935.

Section 2209, providing for notice of application for a tax deed, is definite and certain and has been so construed by the Supreme Court that any applicant by following its provisions has no difficulty in obtaining tax title to the land involved in his application.

Section 2209 is designed to protect the rights and interests of the defaulting taxpayer, and such rights should be carefully guarded. I can see no valid reason for any change in the law which may work a decided hardship or serious loss on a defaulting taxpayer.

While it is true that this measure assumes to protect the interests of the delinquent taxpayer by giving him until July 1, next, within which to redeem, it is likewise true that no notice is provided for and consequently few of this class would ever know of the rights thus granted.

SAM C. FORD, Governor.

Whereupon the question of whether or not House Substitute for Senate Bill No. 2 would become a law notwithstanding the Governor's veto was put and the veto was sustained by the following vote:
